

South African Bursary & Scholarship Platforms

- StudyTrust (Application Portal) – An educational trust administering bursaries and scholarships for numerous corporate, trust and private donors in South Africa ¹ ². Undergraduates create a single online profile and application, which is automatically considered for all StudyTrust-administered bursaries for which they qualify ¹. The bursaries are mostly for full-time university students (undergraduate and postgraduate) in critical/scarce skills fields ³. Bursaries covered: General university bursaries (various fields as per sponsor needs; emphasis on scarce skills). Fields: Various (e.g. science, engineering, IT, finance, etc., per sponsor programmes). Unique features: One-application “master” portal for multiple bursary programmes; mentoring and student support services; no-cost service directly between applicant and sponsor ¹ ².
- Career Wise (Application Portal) – A private bursary-management firm offering a secure student application portal ⁴. Students register a profile, upload documents and apply for multiple funding opportunities (no extra fees). Bursaries covered: Corporate, government, CSI/B-BBEE and employee-dependent bursaries ⁵. These include scholarships and bursaries from companies, government departments, NGOs and trusts. Fields: Various fields as determined by the sponsoring organizations (STEM, commerce, etc.). Unique features: Three-step digital application (register → upload docs → track status) with email/SMS notifications at each stage ⁴ ⁶. Also provides student resources (blog articles, career tips) and customer support for applicants.
- TTI Bursary Management (Application Portal) – A B-BBEE Level 1 bursary-management company (est. 2012) that administers skills-development bursaries on behalf of large enterprises ⁷ ⁸. Students complete an online application and upload supporting documents via the TTI portal (one account for all TTI-administered bursaries). Bursaries covered: Company/industry bursaries across various sectors (e.g. mining, banking, manufacturing). Fields: General (varies by funder; often engineering, ICT, commerce, etc., as per each company’s needs). Unique features: Simplified, branded application portal for each bursary funder; emphasis on speed and simplicity of processing ⁹. (Applicants can track status online once submitted.)
- CareerHelp (DHET Khetha) (Aggregator) – The official Department of Higher Education & Training career portal. It provides consolidated information on government-funded bursaries and scholarships ¹⁰ (and some private sector listings). Users can browse by category (government departments, SETAs, etc.) or search funding opportunities. Bursaries covered: Primarily national and provincial government bursaries (e.g. departmental Bursary Schemes like Funza Lushaka, etc.), plus a few corporate scholarships. Fields: Broad (depending on each scheme; many support engineering, teaching, health, etc.). Unique features: Authoritative government resource linking directly to official bursary programme pages; includes information on international scholarships (via DHET’s portal) ¹⁰. No account needed – it’s an informational portal to official providers.
- ZABusaries.com (Aggregator) – A large independent bursary and scholarship listing platform. It aggregates all open bursary opportunities in South Africa (government, corporate, NGO) and organizes them by field and deadline. Bursaries covered: Extremely broad – university and TVET college bursaries, corporate scholarships, internships and grant opportunities. Fields: Field-specific categories including engineering, law, medicine, commerce, arts, science, teaching, etc. ¹¹ . Unique features: Advanced search and filter by field of study or closing month; separate lists for internships and scholarships; resources like NSFAS guides and deadline calendars ¹¹ . (The site also sends newsletter alerts of new bursaries.)

- SA Bursary Hub (Aggregator) – An independent online platform connecting students with bursaries. It publishes news-style posts about open bursary calls from both government and private sponsors ¹² . Bursaries covered: Government departments (e.g. Agriculture, Forestry, Education), SETA and municipal bursaries, as well as some corporate schemes. Fields: General (various fields, since it covers multiple sectors). Unique features: Free student registration to match applicants with opportunities; extensive FAQs and guidance on applications ¹³ . The site is active with recent posts (e.g. departmental bursary announcements) and allows students to contact the admin via email/WhatsApp for assistance ¹³ .
- Bursaries.co.za (Aggregator) – A bursary portal run by Fundi, offering a searchable database of bursaries and scholarships. Students can use filters (by field, study level, sponsor) to find opportunities, read full details, and click Apply to be taken directly to the sponsor's application form ¹⁴ . Bursaries covered: All open bursaries in SA, including company-sponsored and trust bursaries (e.g. Investec, Old Mutual, Afrox, etc. in the latest listings). Fields: Covers many fields – e.g. engineering, commerce, IT, science and more ¹⁵ (as seen in featured listings). Unique features: Integrated search and alert system; lists “latest opportunities” and categorizes by study area; direct links to apply at each sponsor ¹⁴ ¹⁶ .
